

Duffy Monahan, Joe O'Farrell, Conrad Paulus, Christine & John Rumely and Rob Stephenson invite you to come to a 'Garden Party' at Field House, their Landmark in Gloucestershire.

HERE ARE THE DETAILS:

Date: Saturday 11 June 2011

Time: 4 pm onwards

What: Tea, drinks, odds & ends to eat. Perhaps something more substantial later for those able to stay around awhile. Feel free to bring your favorite beverage; we'll have mainly wine and beer, probably some gin and scotch, too.

Location: Field House, Minchinhampton, Gloucestershire.

Specific Directions: The easiest way to find out where Field House is located is to put its postcode—

GL6 9AY—into your browser. A

Google map should come up. The marker will appear slightly north of the house.

There are also directions and further details at <http://home.comcast.net/~rs41/uk1/c.pdf>

The nearest neighbor to the house is the Minchinhampton Golf Club, in case you need to ask for directions.

Website: Go to our website at <http://home.comcast.net/~rs41/uk1/b.htm> for further details including location maps, photos, description, etc. (If you go to the bottom of the page you'll see a Google map with Field House precisely marked.)

RSVP: It would be helpful to know whether you'll be coming. E-mail Rob at rs41@comcast.net or ring him at 07789 080436 after 26 May.

Note: Make a day of it! The environs are full of interesting villages and lovely landscapes. Cheltenham, Tetbury, Cirencester, Bath, Malmsbury, et al, are all close by. Even stay over night—lots of B&Bs, pubs and hotels nearby.

Hope to see you at Field House on the 11th.

Field House is a Landmark Trust property. To learn more about this marvelous organization, go to

<http://www.landmarktrust.org.uk/>