

Sally & Bruce Larsen, Conrad Paulus and Rob Stephenson invite you to come and visit Obriss Farm, their Landmark Trust sheep farm, where they'll be on the weekend of 30 October-1 November.

Here are the details:

Date: Sunday 1 November 2009

Time: 4pm onwards

What: Tea, drinks, odds and ends to eat. Perhaps something more substantial later. Feel free to bring your favorite beverage; we'll have mainly wine and beer, probably some gin and scotch, too.

Location: Obriss Farm, near Westerham, Kent (3 miles south-east of Westerham, 5 miles south-west of Sevenoaks).

Specific Directions: To reach Obriss Farm go to Westerham via the M25 and A25 (leave the M25 at Junction 6 from the west, or Junction 5 from the east). From Westerham, follow the signs to Chartwell. This means leaving the A25 at the east end of Westerham on the B2026, opposite Quebec House, signposted to Edenbridge and Chartwell. After about 1-1/2 miles turn left, again sign posted to Chartwell. Continue straight ahead, past the entrance to Chartwell, and past a turning on the left signposted to Toy's Hill. The entrance to Obriss Farm is also on the left, half a mile beyond the Toy's Hill turning, at the top of a slight hill. Drive slowly because it is hard to find. (If you get to a house called Pollards on the right, or Rowfield on the left, you have gone too far). There is a gate as you drive in and you will see a cream-painted bungalow on your left (Obriss Lodge). Continue up this track for one-third of a mile until you reach Obriss Farm.

Websites: Go to our websites at <http://home.comcast.net/~rs41/obriss.htm> and <http://home.comcast.net/~rs41/athy4.htm> for further details including location maps, photos, description, etc.

RSVP: It would be helpful to know whether you'll be coming. E-mail Rob at rs41@comcast.net. I will have a mobile and the number will be 07789080436 (a new SIM card with this number is on its way to me; let's hope I can figure out how to install it).

Note: Both Knole and Chartwell, not to mention Hever Castle and Penshurst Place, are close-by. Make a day of it and end up at Obriss Farm!

If you can't join us on the 1st, come to our Huguenot silkweaver's house at 13 Princelet Street, Spitalfields, the following Sunday. See over for details.

Regina Daly, Sally & Bruce Larsen, Duffy Monahan, Stephen Scott-Fawcett and Rob Stephenson invite you to come and visit 13 Princelet Street, Spitalfields, London, their Landmark Trust Huguenot silkweaver's house, where they'll be during the week of 2-9 November.

Here are the details:

Date: Sunday 8 November 2009

Time: 5pm onwards

What: Drinks, odds and ends to eat. Perhaps something more substantial later. Feel free to bring your favorite beverage; we'll have mainly wine and beer, probably some gin and scotch. We can probably scare up a cup of tea or coffee.

Location: 13 Princelet Street, Spitalfields, London E1.

Specific Directions: To reach Princelet Street from Liverpool Street Station, go north up Bishopsgate and turn right into Brushfield Street. Continue to the far end and cross over Commercial Street into Fournier Street. Take the first left into Wilkes Street and then first right into Princelet Street. No. 13 is half way down on the left hand side and has dark red paintwork. For vehicular access go north up Commercial Street. At the traffic lights turn right by the Golden Heart Public House into Hanbury Street. Take the first right onto Wilkes Street and first left into Princelet Street.

Parking: There are two public car parks. One can be found by turning left at the top of Princelet Street into Brick Lane. The car park is on the right. The second is on Hanbury Street, turning second left down Hanbury St heading towards Brick Lane.

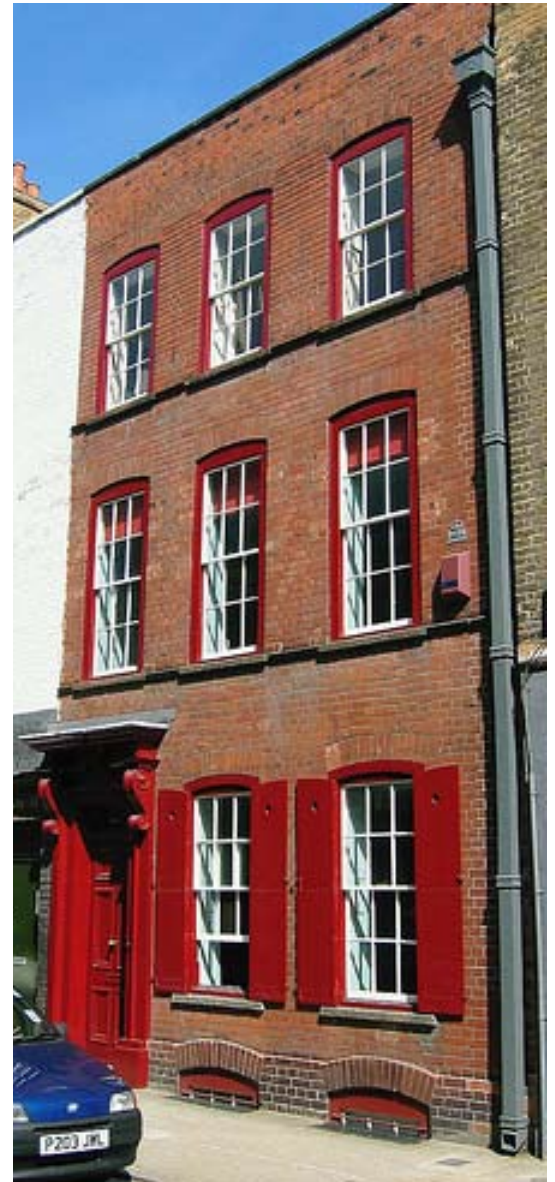

Public Transport: Liverpool Street railway station is about 800 yards away from Princelet Street and is served by the Circle, Metropolitan, Hammersmith & City and Central tube lines

Websites: Go to our websites at <http://home.comcast.net/~rs41/obriss.htm> and <http://home.comcast.net/~rs41/athy4.htm> for further details including location maps, photos, description, etc.

RSVP: It would be helpful to know whether you'll be coming. E-mail Rob at rs41@comcast.net. I will have a mobile and the number will be 07789080436 (a new SIM card with this number is on its way to me; let's hope I can figure out how to install it).

Note: Lots of markets nearby: Brick Lane, Petticoat Lane, and Old Spitalfields are all bustling on Sunday to about 2pm. The Whitechapel Art Gallery isn't far away—it's open 11-6.

Plan B: If Sunday doesn't work for you we'll have an 'At Home' for friends and acquaintances 5-8pm on Thursday 5 November. (This will allow Conrad to be there who leaves on Friday.) Come along then.

If you can't join us on the 8th, come to our Landmark Trust sheep farm in Kent the previous Sunday. See over for details.
