

You're invited to a

Garden Party. . .

at Wortham Manor

Date: Sunday the 22nd of September 2002

Time: From 4 p.m. onwards

Where: Wortham Manor, Lifton, Devon.

The fifteen of us will be at WORTHAM MANOR from the 20th to the 27th of September and invite you to join us for a Garden Party on Sunday the 22nd at this "...Medieval and Tudor house of the highest quality."

This will be an informal gathering to which you and our other friends and acquaintances are invited. We hope you can attend to enjoy the setting and meet old—and new—friends.

If you expect to come, please respond to whomever you received this from. Unfortunately there is no telephone or postal address at Wortham, but don't let that stop you from coming along.

Directions: Directions from The Landmark Trust haven't been received yet but we can say that on our map (OS Explorer 112) Wortham Manor is just over a mile directly north of the village of Lifton, Devon. Lifton is south of the A30, Wortham is just north. To the west of Wortham is Launceston, approximately 4 miles away, the largest nearby town. In general terms, Wortham is directly north of Plymouth, on the western edge of Dartmoor.
