Treat Traitors As Traitors!

Not to be outdone by Jane Fonda, former Attorney General Ramsey Clark is now claiming that the United States is deliberately bombing civilian targets and dikes in North Vietnam. Clark made this same statement on Hanoi Radio.

This must be some sort of a unique plus for the Communists and some sort of a disgraceful first for the United States when a former attorney general of the United States will go on the radio of an enemy nation — during wartime — and lie about the leaders of his own nation.

RAMSEY CLARK

Of course, lest anyone take what Mr. Clark says too seriously, because of his title as former attorney general, it must be remembered that Mr. Clark, almost from the beginning of his appointment, was a left-leaning attorney general who, after his term of office was completed, insisted on acting as legal counsel for various radical groups during the violence in Washington, D.C. Attorney General Clark also aided the Berrigan brothers.

In other words, the former attorney general seems to have decided there is more political hay to be made on the Communist and left-wing side of issues than there is on his own nation's side. So, to all intents and purposes, he has joined the enemy.

What, of course, is so utterly disgraceful is that the left-wing news media, which is falling all over itself to build up the McGovern-Shriver ticket and which devotes most of its morning broadcasts to their activities, led off their morning broadcasts yesterday with former Attorney General Clark's attack on the United States and the Nixon administration. In any other day, and under normal circumstances, an impartial media would have treated Clark's charges with the proper contempt that the mouthings of an enemy of the United States deserves. They would have insisted that he offer some proof of his allegations.

As in the case of so many other matters, the Nixon administration refuses to face up to the situation typified by the Fonda-Clark activities. As we have previously stated, both of these individuals should be arrested and, if found guilty, exiled from the United States forever and a day.

By ALBERT NETTEL

HAMPTON BEACH — Two Granite Staters have a golden opportunity to win $50,000, as a result of their entrance into a "super" drawing in the New Hampshire Sweepstakes 50-cent ticket program to be conducted Friday at 10 a.m. at the Sea Shell here.

They are Richard R. Bruneau of the Hilltop Apartments, Kimball Road, Londonderry, and Kathryn Drown, Fessenden Terrace, Boscawon.

The "super" program will be part of a Sweeps triple-header drawing to be conducted in the seaside resort area.

Initially, Sweeps officials will hold their weekly drawing to select at random the winning five-digit number in the "50-50 N.H. Sweeps".

Next, will come the "super" giveaway. Finally, Sweepstakes representatives will present the "last digit" match phase of the drawing during which 75 prizes of $25 each will be awarded.

The two New Hampshire residents are among five sweeps ticket holders eligible for the "super" drawing as a result of having complete, five digit matches of winning numbers chosen in the past two weeks.

BERLIN (UPI)—An East German jetliner on a flight from East Berlin to a Bulgarian Black Sea vacation resort crashed soon after takeoff yesterday, killing all 156 persons aboard, the East German news service ADN said.

Worst Single Crash

It was believed to be the worst single accident involving a single plane in aviation history. The worst crash involved a Japanese Air Lines (JAL) plane and a Japanese Air Force trainer which collided over Tokyo on July 30, 1971, killing 162 persons.

The Soviet-built Ilyushin IL62 from East Germany's Interflug Airline that crashed yesterday carried 148 passengers and a crew of eight. All the passengers were believed to be East Germans.

ADN said the Interflug charter flight crashed at 5:10 p.m. (12:10 p.m. EDT) at the town of Koening-Wueterhausen, southeast of East Berlin's Schoenefeld Airport. The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

"Despite rescue work immediately put into effect by fire brigades and doctors, all help came too late. All 148 passengers and eight crew were killed," ADN said.

Four Engines on Tail
The IL62, which has four engines on its tail, was first introduced into foreign service by the Soviet Union's Aeroflot Airline and began flying the Moscow-Montreal route. The plane also inaugurated Aeroflot's Moscow-New York service in 1966.

The plane carries 150 passengers and Monday's Interflug flight was only two short of capacity. It was enroute from Schoenefeld, just outside East Berlin, to Burgas, on the Bulgarian Black Sea coast.

ADN said a government commission was established under Transport Minister Otto Arndt to investigate the crash. Western nationals also fly from East Berlin with the East German airline to East European vacation resorts in trips arranged by West German and West Berlin travel agencies.

However, such flights take place only over the weekend, a West Berlin "Flugring" travel agency spokesman said.

Boy, 14, Is Held in Slaying

By CAROL CARTER

CLAREMONT—A 14-year-old boy appeared in juvenile court yesterday morning for an informational hearing after allegedly stabbing to death his stepfather at their home here late Sunday night.

Authorities declined to release the boy's name but said he will appear before Special Judge Raymond V. Denault again today for arraignment on a juvenile warrant charging a second-degree murder. Superior Court will later determine whether the boy should be tried as a juvenile or an adult.

The victim, Harrison A. Taylor, 47, of the Union Block, was dead in the corridor outside his apartment when police arrived just before 11 p.m. after being summoned by the boy.

Police said Taylor had allegedly been striking the boy's mother during a family argument and the boy reportedly pleaded for him to stop. When Taylor refused, police said the boy told them, he seized a hunting knife lying in a sheath on a record player and stabbed the man. After Taylor fled from the apartment, the boy said he looked into the hall and saw him lying on the floor and called police.

A total of 23 wounds, many of them superficial, were noted during the autopsy performed by Dr. Warren Fraz, acting Sullivan County medical referee. Authorities speculated that cuts about hands and arms may have resulted when he attempted to fend off the blows. Police noted that there were seven wounds in the chest, some penetrating major organs.

Assisting County Attorney Edward J. Tenney 2nd in the investigation are Claremont Police under the direction of Chief Richard Kaye and Sheriff

John McCusker with his deputies.

Plainfield Native

Taylor was a native of Plainfield. He was employed at the Claremont Flock Company. The family includes his wife, Mrs. Dorothy L. (Boyd) Taylor, three sons, William Taylor, Brian Taylor, and Gary Taylor; four daughters, Debra Taylor, Diane Taylor, Roberta Taylor, and Beverly Taylor; five stepchildren; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor of West Windsor, Vt.; five sisters, Mrs. Adeline E. (Wright) of Claremont, Helen B. (Sessette) of North Charlestown, Mrs. Madeline Sears of Windsor, and Mrs. Katherine Sargent of West Windsor; a brother, Albert Taylor Jr. of West Windsor and niece and nephews.

Services will be conducted Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the McCusker Funeral Home by the Rev. Harold S. Campbell. Burial will be in Acunetey Cemetery, Windsor, Vt.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Jaffrey Area Men's Bodies Found on Peak

By GIL CHAPUT
INUVIK, Northwest Territories — The bodies of three New Hampshire men, killed when their plane slammed into the Richardson Mountains west of here Saturday, were recovered by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police yesterday.

The bodies of David R. Sawyer, 47, of Turnpike Road, Jaffrey; Alan Wheeler, 43, of Jaffrey Center, and George E. Harmon, 50, of Munsonville, were recovered from the 4,000-foot level of the mountain range.

Pleasure Trip

Their twin-engine plane had disappeared Saturday about 8 p.m. EDT on a flight from Inuvik to Fort Yukon, Alaska. The trio had left Jaffrey Aug. 5 for a 23-day fishing and pleasure trip through northern Canada and Alaska. They were to have returned to New Hampshire Aug. 28.

Radio contact with the plane was lost Saturday about 30 minutes after they took off from Inuvik, and when they were reported overdue in Fort Yukon a two-nation search was launched.

Inuvik is at the mouth of the Mackenzie River on the Beaufort Sea of the Arctic Ocean.

Officials at the Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, said the search Sunday was hindered by bad weather but the skies cleared yesterday morning. U.S. Air Force and Alaskan Civil Air Patrol planes combined with aircraft from the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Yukon N.H. MEN Page 14

Rogers Sparks Nixon Buildup

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Republicans began their buildup yesterday to the re-nomination of President Nixon with Secretary of State William P. Rogers accusing Democrats of "Alice-in-Wonderland" talk about Vietnam policy.

Rogers disputed, and Republican National Chairman Robert J. Dole denounced, the assertion of Democratic vice presidential nominee Sargent Shriver that Nixon missed a North Vietnamese peace signal four years ago.

A Fairy Tale?
"This thing has taken on an Alice-in-Wonderland coloration," Rogers said.

He turned to the political counterattack after telling the Republican Platform Committee the administration has fashioned a foreign policy that may realistically lead to a generation of peace.

There were ripples of dissent as Republicans talked about other aspects of their platform and their rules, but it was a predictably placid beginning on the work of the national convention that opens in a week to nominate Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for second terms.

Brooke To Speak
Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, a negro and a critic of Nixon's war policy, was named to lead off a three-part keynote address to the convention.

They have chosen to adhere to the enemy, let them stay WITH the enemy.

As a matter of fact, all this hoopla about bombing dikes and civilian targets is ridiculous. This is WAR. In fact, this newspaper would urge the Nixon administration to LEVEL North Vietnam—dikes, Hanoi, Haiphong, populated areas, everything. These people are waging a war against the South. They have not hesitated to kill innocent people in the South. Why should we be so tender-hearted about these Communist killers?

The North Vietnamese have had plenty of time to withdraw from South Vietnam following President Nixon's warning. They have not heeded it.

NOW, INSTEAD OF LIMITING OURSELVES TO THE BLOCKADE OF HAIPHONG HARBOR AND OTHER PORTS IN NORTH VIETNAM AND THE DESTRUCTION OF MILITARY OBJECTIVES, WE SHOULD GO ALL OUT TO DESTROY THE COUNTRY THAT, FOR SO LONG, HAS REFUSED TO LISTEN TO THE VOICE OF REASON AND THE REQUEST TO GET BACK BEHIND ITS BORDERS AND STAY THERE.

Finally, as this newspaper said earlier, it is time to stop temporizing with Clark and Fonda and other people who prefer the enemy to ourselves. Strong action should be taken against them.

Absentee Ballots Are Now Available

CONCORD — Absentee ballots and sample ballots for the Sept. 12 primary have been printed and are now available, according to the secretary of state's office.

This will be the first state primary in which absentee ballots are used since they were authorized by the 1971 session of the Legislature.

"Absentees" were first used in the presidential primary on March 7—the first primary after the law was passed—but this will be the first regular state primary in which they are used.

Deputy Secretary of State Edward Kelley said that absentee ballots are either in the hands of city and town clerks or on the way. "Sample" ballots for both Republican and Democratic Parties are also available for posting in public places.

Air Patrol to conduct the search.

Shortly after 3 p.m. EDT yesterday, a Canadian plane spotted the wreckage 60 miles west of Inuvik.

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police helicopter flew to the 3,000-foot level of the mountain and a party of Mounties climbed to the crash site and identified the wreckage.

The bodies were carried down to the helicopters and flown to Inuvik last night.

Air Force officials at Elmendorf said the weather in Inuvik Saturday was overcast and that the flying conditions were "minimal." The cloud ceiling Saturday ran from 200 to 2,000 feet, up to 7,000 feet, an Elmendorf spokesman said.

It was not determined last night who was piloting the plane at the time of the crash.

Harmon however, was a pilot for Delta Air Lines, flying out of Boston, and Wheeler was a navigator trained in survival techniques.

The cause of death was not determined.

National Guard Officer

Sawyer was a lieutenant colonel in the N.H. Army National Guard and had recently assumed command of the 197th Artillery Group, Manchester. He and his brother, Alfred P. Sawyer of Jaffrey, operated the Silver Ranch in Jaffrey.

The trip had been in the planning stages for several years and was primarily for fishing and photography.

In addition to his National Guard duties, Sawyer was the moderator of the town of Jaffrey. Wheeler was a member of the Jaffrey-Rindge Cooperative School Board.

Sawyer had assumed command of the 197th Group on July 3. Prior to that time he served as group executive officer and as commander of the First Battalion, 172nd Artillery, of Manchester.

He was commissioned a second lieutenant in March, 1950, and had been a member of the New Hampshire National Guard since July, 1951. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel in May, 1969. He was a graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff School and was enrolled in the Army War College.

The family includes his wife, Mrs. Betty E. Sawyer; three daughters, Mrs. John Belletete of Liverpool, N.Y., and Miss Joy Sawyer and Miss Jennie Sawyer, both of Jaffrey; his brother, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Clark of Jaffrey.

Further information on Wheeler and Harmon was not available last night.

Douglas W. Lyon of Goffstown, has been appointed as January term coordinator for the New Hampshire College and University Council, Lynn G. Johnson, associate director of the council, said today.

DOUGLAS W. LYON

Six of the 10 members of the NHCUC have 4-14 academic calendars. This means they have two normal four-month semesters in the fall and spring. And, in addition, they have a one-month January term in which the student devotes all his time to one intensive program.

Lyon will coordinate the various programs, assisting the January term directors and facilitating cooperative programs.

In announcing the appointment of Lyon, Johnson commented, "The January term programs at each school are very popular with students and have been quite successful. However, the council feels that inter-institutional programs could be refined and strengthened. The real strength of the NHCUC is that it allows the pooling of resources.

"Working together, schools can set up programs that would be prohibitively costly for an individual institution," Johnson added.

Lyon, commenting on his new job stated, "I am very enthusiastic about the January term. It is one answer to some difficult problems every college has. It serves as a workshop for curriculum experiments and it gives relevance by practical experience to the normal semester's work. For instance, the student can study the problems of minority groups during the semester and then actually work with members of such a group during January term. Or he can study the history of a foreign country during the regular semester, then travel to that country in January. It is a very exciting program."

January term programs tend to put an emphasis on doing and first hand experience as well as traditional study methods. Students at NHCUC schools can select courses from any member's January term program at no additional cost, giving each student, in effect, the opportunity to study at any of the six different institutions.

Lyon holds a B.A. in philosophy and an M.A. in political science from the University of New Hampshire. In addition to his work with the January term, he will do some communications work for the council.

Lyon and his wife, Nancy, reside in Goffstown.

Students Given Okay to Pray In Queen City

The Manchester School Board last night reaffirmed its policy of allowing voluntary prayer in the city's schools, with the provision that no teacher lead the prayers.

The action came after a communication from the Manchester Chapter of the Military Order of the Purple Heart relative to a resolution in favor of restoring prayer in city schools.

In its report, the school committee said it is in favor of a Constitutional amendment to allow prayer in schools, and "that the state's congressional delegation, the New Hampshire School Boards Association and the State Board of Education be so informed."

One board member commented that "prayers never hurt anybody," and Mrs. Mary P. Brown noted the public school system already has made provisions for voluntary prayer.

Committeeman John B. Martel said "there isn't anything we can do—our hands are tied. I still believe prayers should be allowed in school, but to tell them (students) to pray would be wrong."

Instrumental Portrayals: Instruments portray the character in the folk opera, "Peter and the Wolf." The narrator tells the story and, with every mention of the principals, an instrument plays the corresponding motif. For example, the flute represents the bird.

POLITICAL

dianapolis and Mrs. Anne Armstrong, co-chairman of the Republican National Committee, will join Brooke as keynote speakers.

Shriver, meanwhile, opened his Democratic vice presidential campaign in Wheeling, W. Va., telling an airport rally that the administration has ignored the working man.

"The working man's wages are frozen, but he is still paying higher prices," Shriver said.

Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, was in Washington on the eve of a campaign swing to the Midwest.

In Boston, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said Agnew "will be one of the biggest issues in this campaign, and he will be an issue because Sargent Shriver will make him one."

Agnew and his future political prospects were a factor as the Republican Rules Committee discussed party reform proposals designed to broaden participation in future GOP conventions.

McGovern was nominated by a Democratic convention that already had opened up the delegate selection processes and expanded representation of women, minorities and young people.
