

CLUB FLAG (from Scrapbook Database in computer)

"The matter of having a club shield placed in the room where all meetings of the Travellers Club are held in the Harvard Club was discussed."

Minutes of the Fellows Meeting, 16 January 1914. [BookX p47]

"A recent letter from our member, David L. Patten, to the Secretary was read, suggesting a Club flag. The Council unanimously disapproved a Club flag as unnecessary..."

Minutes of Council meeting, 21 November 1967. [Min2 p158]

Dear Dr. Kennard:

4th

With out doubt you are acquainted with Dr. John H. Knowles, Director of the MGH. I listened to him on the radio breakfast hour, being interviewed on his recent So. Vietnam trip. In addition, he has travelled to many other out-of-the-way places. If not a member, he should be, and as a possible speaker he should be searched out.

I mentioned at the last meeting the idea of having a Club flag. If the Club has any special symbol or design I am not aware of it. My suggestion is that the matter be discussed and possibly put to a vote of the members, after which a committee can be set up to explore the question of something suitable. Perhaps a good emblem might be the subject of the last speaker - a penguin.
